A MOTHER'S LOVE

The Instinct of a Mother Greater and Stronger Than Anything in the Known World.

We read a great deal about a Mother's Love and it is all right--but we read more about a Mother's Instinct to preserve her young. When it is possible to buy for fifty cents or a dollar a bottle of Gowan's Preparation--a certain and infallible remedy for Pneumonia, Croup and Colds, the marvel is that so many mothers do not make the purchase. This wonderful remedy is applied externally and will positively cure colds, croup, and that dread disease, pneumonia. It is a remedy that has been on the market several years, contains no dope, no harmful ingredients, but acts as no other medicine ever acted on the afflicted parts. All druggists sell this marvelous remedy--Gowan's Preparation, and every home should contain a bottle.

Wilson will announce his cabinet March 4th.

THE AYCOCK COUNTY HEARING

The editor was in Raleigh last Thursday night to hear the Aycock County proposition argued before the committee on cities and counties from the house. Those speaking for High Point were Mayor Tate, his brother A. E. Tate, Dr. Dred Peacock, W. T. Parker, T. J. Finch, J. J. Farriss, and others. Those speaking against the measure were L. L. Hobbs, W. C. Hammer, Lawyer McCrary, Lawyer Brittain, Dr. Gordon, Dr. Jones and a number of others. Every inch of ground was stubbornly fought by the "antis" and it looked like they tried to introduce everybody they could find who was opposed to the new county. However, with very few exceptions, the "antis" represented the court house rings of Guilford, Davidson and Randolph County. The poorest argument we ever heard for not granting Aycock County was attempted by the "antis." There was absolutely no argument to it whatever as far as merit is concerned. They did not score one point. Shed of everything and let it stand in its own true light, the motive was pure and simple that these "antis" were against the new county from a selfish standpoint. The Aycock County contingent put up a good argument in behalf of the new county, many logical reasons why it should be granted, and as proof of our assertion, the committee reported with high unanimity to refer the matter to the House, the vote finally being 15 to 6. The matter comes up before the House today, and we sincerely believe and trust that it will be overwhelming for a new county. If this be so, then the next fight to be made is in the senate, where, it must be admitted, the chances are not so great, but relying on the judgment and foresight of the legislators representing the people, we believe they can not afford to not grant Aycock County.

AN INTERESTING ARTICLE

We call especial attention to the article on editorial page "Battle of the Albemarle" from the pen of Hon. Wm. J. Leary, Sr., postmaster of Edenton, N. C. and father of our townsman, Lawyer E. W. Leary. We are sure our readers will follow Mr. Leary's true story of the long ago with much interest. The Review counts itself fortunate in being able to present such an article to its readers.

A GOOD SHOWING

At a meeting of the stock holders of the Leonard-Beavans-Stamey Company Tuesday night, a splendid showing for the past year was made, the company enjoying the largest business in its history, with bright prospects for a greater business this year.

KILLED ON RAILROAD

Cicero M. Jones, brother of Dr. A. C. Jones, this city, was killed on the Big Four railroad in Indiana Monday. The remains will arrive tonight and be interred at Marlboro.

UNCLE SAM WILL UNCHAIN WAR DOGS.

Mexico City, Feb. 12.—One American woman was killed today in her home. Another was fatally wounded. The dead woman was Mrs. H. W. Holmes, and the wounded woman is Mrs. Percy Griffith. Allie Brand, a painter, was wounded in the arm.

Mexico City, Feb. 12.—Another battle, apparently fruitless, but more destructive than yesterday's raged in the heart of the capital today. Shrapnell and giant shells ploughed the streets and wrecked buildings.

The Southern Manufacturers Association was in session here yesterday with a large attendance. An interesting meeting was held. The association meets four times a year.

Only 20 days to the inauguration. Are you going? Round trip from High Point $9.85.

The ladies of Washington Street M. E. church will hold a "valentine reception" tomorrow at the home of Mrs. D. A. Stanton. Silver offering.

Next Wednesday afternoon the United Daughters of the Confederacy will hold a white sale at the Manufacturer's Club.

BE CONSISTENT, PLEASE

According to information at hand, Guilford County commissioners are fixing to build a new court house, to cost $200,000 all told. High Point pays one fifth of the county taxes, so this will make $40,000 for High Point's part towards the new court house. This being the case, the Greensboro bugaboo in regard to the proposed new county of Aycock not being able to build a $40,000 court house falls flat, and after all those affected by the new county boundaries will not be called upon to pay any more taxes than they will be compelled to pay within a short time. We contend that the county of Aycock can transact its own affairs, have a modern court house and jail, build better roads, have better schools, and be more prosperous in every way and eventually at less cost than by remaining as they are. In other words, it is a progressive step, and the people who want the new county should be given a chance to move forward and not be tied down against our wishes.

THE RED MEN'S ENTERTAINMENT

On next Wednesday night, as per previous announcement, Chickasaw Tribe No. 32, Improved Order of Red Men, will hold memorial services, to which the public is invited. Hon. D. L. James, of Greenville, will make the principal speech, being one of the state's most gifted orators. Hon. Roy C. Flanagan, the in-coming Great Sachem of the Red Men, who is post master at Greenville, will also be present. Music will be furnished by a choir composed of Mrs. Kephart, Misses Boyd and Idol, and Messrs. A. L. Burns, Sam Barbee, Mendenhall and Garrett. The exercises will begin at 7:45 P. M.

DOING FAIRLY WELL

The condition of Mrs. H. F. Stamey who suffered a broken limb ten days ago, is satisfactory to her physicians and the outcome is hopeful. She is still at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. F. Hoffman, on South Main Street.

Review Of The Year.

A North Carolina editor who has summed up his business for 1912 wins the prize for the review of the year. It follows:

Been broke 361 times.
Had money four times.
Praised the public nine times.
Told lies, 1,728 times.
Told the truth one time.
Missed prayer meeting fifty two times.
Been roasted 431 times.
Roasted others fifty-two times.
Washed the office towel three times.
Missed meals, 0.
Mistaken for preacher eleven times.
Mistaken for capitalist, 0.
Found money, 0.

Delinquents who paid, 28.
Those who did not pay, 1,136.
Paid in conscience, 0.
Got whipped, 0.
Whipped others twenty three times.
Cash on hand at beginning, $1.47.
Cash on hand at ending, fifteen cents.

Yesterday in Greensboro a runaway horse dashed into a large plate glass in the Humphrey building and caused consternation for awhile.

SPECIAL NOTICE

We are advised by the Third Assistant Postmaster General that copies of this paper sent to persons after one year from the date of their subscriptions, "unless such subscription be renewed for a definite time, together with an actual payment of subscription or a bona fide promise of payment," cannot be sent through the mails at the newspaper rate.

We direct the attention of our subscribers to this fact, and ask that all who are in arrears for a year or more make a payment so that the subscription will not be more than one year in arrears. This must be done, or we cannot mail the paper. We ask that our friends who are behind as much as one year give this matter their attention at the earliest possible moment, and save them embarrassment and us some trouble.

We thank all our friends for their patronage and do not want to lose a single one of them. Please co-operate.

ANOTHER ENTERPRISE

Yesterday organization was effected of the Crown Hosiery Mill with a paid in capital stock of $40,000. The officers are: T. H. Kearns, President; R. R. Ragan, vice-president; G. H. Kearns, secretary and treasurer. A two-story brick building will be erected opposite the Shipman Organ Co.

E. D. Steele has disposed of his fine farm, known as the old Smith place, at Archdale, to a Washington party, who swaps Mr. Steele a flat with 28 apartments, in Washington, D. C., valued at $75,000.

Dr. E. L. Stamey, physician in charge of Keeley Institute, Greensboro, spent Saturday afternoon here to see his sister-in-law, Mrs. H. F. Stamey, who is confined to her bed on account of an accident.

Messrs. A. B. Horney and Alphonso Ellison attended the Aycock County hearing last Thursday night.

Jarvis County died a-borniu' before the senate committee. We trust it will be more gracious with Aycock County.

Mrs. D. H. Milton continues desperately ill at her home on East Washington Street, to the regret of her friends. Unbounded sympathy is expressed for her and her devoted husband and loved ones.

Notwithstanding what the "antis" say, we find very few people against Aycock County.

Easter comes this year the earliest in 100 years. Spring millinery and glad rags will no doubt have a cold reception.

Work is moving rapidly forward on the Highland Cotton Mills.

Mr. Bob Welch, who has been with the Welch Furniture Company for a number of years, has opened up a wholesale supply house here.

Mr. H. A. Moffitt is at the north, purchasing his spring and summer stock of goods.

Some times sweet charity goes wrong in its efforts to collect money for a worthy cause. Stunts that would be condemned by the church are pulled off and people made to applaud because, it is for a "good purpose."

"The Highlander" of Shelby is advocating the adoption of the Australian ballot for the state, claiming that it is the fairest, purest way of registering the will of the people. About all the states in the union have this SYSTEM OF BALLOT, North Carolina being among the very few that haven't.

We call attention to the excellent statement of the Home Banking Co. in this issue.

The Knights of Pythias will have a reception Monday night in their lodge room. Speeches will be made by several members of the order and refreshments will be served. Every Pythian is urged to be present and bring some male friend with him.

Moffitt Furnishing Company has a change ad in this issue, which it will pay our readers to notice carefully.

Leonard-Beavans-Stamey Company as usual have something of exceptional value to offer the buying public. See ad on first page.

The Commercial National Bank appeals for your business in a well worded ad.

The Home Banking Company solicits your business and promises you accuracy, promptness, courtesy, etc.

The railroad from Denton to High Rock, nine miles in length, was completed Monday, and operations on the road will commence by March 1st. The line from High Point to Thomasville will be built next, and we trust that a real competitive line will soon be in operation from High Point.

Saturday night, February 15th, the local talent of Trinity High School, will give a minstrel.

Mr. Alf Moffitt, of The Moffitt Furnishing Company, is at the north, buying his spring and summer stock of millinery and ready-to-wear garments.

Let's make it unanimous for Aycock County. We can do it.

Mother Goose will be presented here on the night of the 28th of this month, under the auspices of the First Baptist Philathea Class.

High Point is moving rapidly forward as facts show, viz: the increased rates at the post office, which is a good barometer of progress.

FORBIDS JEWELER TO DEFACE COINS

Treasury Department Enforcing Law Which Makes Use of Coins as Trinkets Illegal

The use of coins in jewelry is not so popular today as it was once, say the jewelers. Nevertheless, coins are still used to some extent in this way, and that is why jewelers here were interested in a report from Denver recently that out there the local head of the secret service had received orders from the Treasury Department to see that the federal statute regarding the defacement of current coins was enforced.

This law, which is section 5450 of the Revised Statutes, has been a sort of bugaboo for jewelers for many years, because from time to time the use of certain coins in jewelry has been a fad, and not every jeweler has been aware just to what extent it came within the law. For instance a man may have one of the old gold dollars and have a hanker to wear it on his watch chain.

The simplest way of doing this is to take it to a jeweler and get him to punch a hole in it. No doubt there are a good many people who would be surprised at the curt refusal they would get from most jewelers if such a request were made. Should a jeweler accommodate you the Secret Service man who caught you wearing that punctured coin on your watch chain could put you in jail and the jeweler, too, and it wouldn't make a bit of difference how old the coin was you were wearing. Curiously enough, you would be in the same class with the counterfeiter and the man who plugs coins.

Not long ago, when the Lincoln cent first came out, some of the jewelers, struck by the artistic merit of the coins and the popularity they met with, thought it would be a nice thing to make use of them as jewelry. Their idea was to guild them to be used for watch charms and brooches and pins.

Then some of them happened to think of the law and decided to find out how far they could go. The law says that any person commits a crime who "fraudulently, by any art, way or means, defaces, mutilates, impairs, diminishes, falsifies, scales or lightens" the gold and silver coins of the United States. While this made no mention of copper coins, the jewelers concluded not to embellish the popular Lincoln cents in any way, and here the matter ended.

It often happens that somebody digs up a gold or silver coin of ancient vintage and gets a desire to have his monogram nicely engraved on it for use as an ornament. Jewelers frequently get requests to do such work, but there again the law comes in. Cutting a monogram on a coin lightens it and again brings you into the class of those who tamper with the currency.

On the other hand, suppose you

The Store of Values

The Moffitt Furnishing Company

asked a jeweler to cut a gold dollar in the shape of a diamond and make a stick-pin out of it. This he would gladly do, and with such a pin in your scarf you could walk into the Treasury building at Washington itself without fear of molestation.

Of course you would have lightened your gold piece, but you would also have destroyed it completely as a coin. In a hardup moment you couldn't use your stickpin for car fare, as you could your watch charm with your initials on it. In one case Uncle Sam wouldn't have a word to say, and in the other he could clasp you into jail. New York Herald.

OLDEST VETERAN OF CONFEDERACY IS DEAD

Calvin Ozment, a near centarian and a veteran of the Confederacy, died at noon Sunday, at his home near the Battleground. Mr. Ozment was in his ninety-second year and enjoyed the distinction of being the oldest survivor of the war in this country. He was present at the last reunion in May, 1912, in this city, and was as hale and hearty as his followers of lesser years. Mr. Ozment's death came after a short illness and the end was said to have been due largely to the infirmities of age.

The funeral was held from Buffalo church near Proximity Monday afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Summerfield.

Walter Hargett of Thomasville has accepted a position with the Bank of Commerce.
